C2005 MARKET COMMENT

The end of the C05 season culminated in a successful auction on 23rd September. The auction was characterised by very strong bidding almost right across the board. Young goat and adult types defied the trend at the most recent Cape Sale (20/9/05), by posting significant price gains. Good Young Goat was up 4 to 22%, while average Young Goat was up 7%. Fine Fine Hair was up 18% to 37% while good fine hair was up from 4% to 10% and average fine hair was up 13%. The good hair lines were also up from 18% to 26% while average hair was up 12%. Following a similar trend to the Cape, Kid types were generally down from 7% to 10%.

Demand and a strong desire to fill orders in an environment characterised by low supply levels would have contributed significantly to these price increases.

Once again fineness (of micron) influenced price in most categories, far more significantly than staple length.
